

Hello Friends! Happy May!

During the month of May, you make it matter, you take actions that reflect a high self-worth and collaborate with others who know beauty. Happy New Moon this weekend. The new moon in Taurus arrives on May 4 at 3:46 PM PT.

We welcome this month of May, the 5th month in a one Year. The number Five symbolizes freedom and change. It represents new beginnings of vital energy, of a life force in every cell of our being. The number Five is curious like a bumble bee flying from flower to flower, not staying too long, curious about the next flower of the future.

The month of May supports you in building a stable foundation with your consistent actions of love which in no time at all will yield a harvest that reflects all the tender love you put in.

A powerful time to have clear, direct communication with the Universe about what you are ready to manifest.

- It's really important to be clear and not send mixed messages to the universe.
- Make up your mind, be disciplined with your thoughts and move into the vibration of the perfect match for you.
- Be the word with your body and with your vibration.

Let us manifest the highest possibilities!

"Be like the Jaguar,
Sacred Jaguar teach me.....
To wear my power lightly
To walk with impeccability
To approach life with compassion and to live up to the integrity of my human potential. "
~ Jamie Sams and David Carsons

We are consciously choosing the higher path, choosing the pure thoughts, choosing our sovereignty, choosing to release and surrender what no longer works. If I would come up with one keyword that would serve us every day on our spiritual walk...it would be "surrender", letting go.

Release and surrender, clear out and let go of, all that is not in harmony with where you want to go. Find ease in the next unknown as you work towards your collective freedom. Allow your best self to emerge.

There YOU are, experiencing yourself as love. Let's do this!

Devoted to Love,
